The financial statements have been prepared under the historical cost accounting convention on a going concern basis.

Going concern

The Directors are of the opinion that the Company has adequate financial resources to enable it to continue providing financial and administrative services to Chariot Oil & Gas Limited during the forthcoming twelve months. 1 Accounting policies (continued)

Revenue

Revenue recognition for the provision of services has the following recognition requirements:

- it is probable that the economic benefits of the transaction will flow to the entity;
- the revenue can be measured reliably; and
- the costs (both incurred to date and expected future costs) are identifiable and can be measured reliably.

Revenue is measured at the fair value of the consideration received or receivable and represents amounts receivable for goods and services provided in the normal course of business, net of discounts, VAT and other sales-related taxes.

Revenue is recognised at the moment when the services have been provided.

Foreign currency

The functional and presentation currency of the Company is UK Pounds Sterling and it does not require to convert Sterling into any other currency in order to carry out its principal activities.

Taxation

Profits and losses of the Company will be subject to corporation tax. Any provision in the financial statements will be made at the amounts expected to be paid or recovered using the tax rates and laws that have been enacted or substantially enacted by the balance sheet date.

Plant and equipment

Plant and equipment is included at cost less accumulated depreciation and any provision for impairment. Plant and equipment is depreciated over its estimated useful life at rates which vary between 20% and 33% per annum.

Operating leases

Rent paid on operating leases is charged to the Statement of Comprehensive Income on a straight line basis over the term of the lease.

Financial instruments

Financial assets

In accordance with IFRS the Company classifies its financial assets into either 'loans and receivables' or 'cash and cash equivalents'. The Company has not classified any of its financial assets as held to maturity or available for sale. The Company has not classified any of its assets at fair value through profit and loss.

The loans and receivables are initially recognised at fair value plus transaction costs that are directly attributable to their acquisition or issue, and are subsequently carried at amortised cost (which is considered to equate to carried cost) less provision for impairment.

Impairment provisions are recognised when there is objective evidence (such as significant financial difficulties on the part of the counterparty or default or significant delay in payment) that the Company will be unable to collect all of the amounts due under the terms of the receivable, the amount of such a provision being the difference between the net carrying amount and the present value of the future expected cash flows associated with the impaired receivable. For trade receivables, which are reported net, such provisions are recorded in a separate allowance account with the expense being recognised within cost of sales in the income statement. On confirmation that the trade receivable will not be collectable, the gross carrying value of the asset is written off against the associated provision.

Cash and cash equivalents comprise cash on hand, deposits with a maturity of three months or less and other short-term highly liquid investments that are readily convertible into known amounts of cash and overdrafts repayable on demand.

Financial liabilities

In accordance with IFRS the Company classifies its trade payables and other short-term monetary liabilities as 'held at amortised cost'. The Company has not classified any of its liabilities at fair value through profit and loss.

Trade payables and other short-term monetary liabilities are initially recognised at fair value and subsequently at amortised cost.

Share based payments

Share based payments arise when share awards in the parent company are awarded to employees as part of the Long Term Incentive Plan and Share Option Scheme. The fair value of the shares at the date of grant is charged to the income statement over the vesting period. This charge is reversed if the employee forfeits the share awards due to leaving the company prior to the completion of the vesting period.

A transfer between share based payment reserve and retained deficit made at the point the shares are issued to the employees, based on the value initially taken to the share based payment reserve during the vesting period.

Deferred taxation

Deferred taxation assets and liabilities are recognised where the carrying amount of an asset or liability in the statement of financial position differs from its tax base, except for differences arising on the recognition of deferred tax assets which is restricted to those instances only where it is probable that taxable profit will be available against which the asset can be utilised.

The amount of the asset or liability is determined using tax rates that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the reporting date and are expected to apply when the deferred tax liabilities/(assets) are settled/(recovered).

Critical accounting estimates and judgements

The preparation of the Company financial statements in conformity with IFRS requires the use of estimates and assumptions that affect the reported assets and liabilities and reported revenue and expenses. Actual results could differ from those estimates and accordingly they are reviewed on an on-going basis. The main areas in which estimates are used relate to accounting estimates for prepayments, accrued expenses and depreciation of plant and equipment. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognised in the year in which the estimate is revised or the revision affects only that year, or in the year of revision and future years if the revision affects both the current and future years.
